

STATE NEWS

Percy V. Caldwell, superintendent of the Pioneers' Home at Prescott, died suddenly last Tuesday night of neuralgia of the heart. Caldwell was appointed to the position about two years ago, following the resignation of Major A. J. Doran.

Eugene W. Chaffin, prohibition candidate for United States senator from Arizona, has opened campaign headquarters in Phoenix. A man named Hall has been imported from California to take charge of Chaffin's campaign.

That Billy Styles, former Arizona train robber and all around bad man, is now an evangelist in Los Angeles, is a report that is in circulation in the state at the present time. Styles was one of the most noted gunmen whoever terrorized this state.

The Supervisors of Pinal county, sitting as a board of equalization recently made some sweeping raises in the assessments of stockmen. One man was raised 1500 per cent.

Forty-one carrier pigeons were recently released at Rodeo, New Mexico, and started on a race to Bisbee. Only five of the birds made the trip successfully, the others being shot by ambitious hunters.

It is estimated by people who are familiar with such matters, that it will require ten minutes for the average voter to mark his ballot at the coming general election. This length of time will be required, is estimated, on account of the many initiated bills which will appear on the ballot. If this estimate is correct, and it probably is, the people of the state will be forced to go some in order to get in their votes.

A minimum wage of $3.50 per day for the employees of the city has been adopted by the members of the Bisbee city council. The minimum was formerly $3.00.

Big times were had in Yuma last week when Judge Baxter of the Superior Court sentenced County Attorney Ingraham to fifty days in jail for contempt of court. The sentence grew out of remarks alleged to have been made by Ingraham in reference to the trial of murderers, in which it is claimed he said it was impossible to secure a conviction before Judge Baxter. Seven murderers have gone free of the law in Yuma county recently, and it is understood that the county attorney holds the superior judge responsible for this fact.

Announcement is made from Phoenix that H. A. Morgan of Wilcox will probably be the Republican nominee for Governor.

The total taxable property in Cochise county for the year 1914 is $94,474,605.45. The total of exemptions for the year is $1,035,020.00. The net total valuation for the county is $93,439,585.45.

Colonel H. L. Pickett, one of the best and widely known attorneys in Cochise county, and, in fact, the state of Arizona, passed away Wednesday morning in Tombstone, death having come at 4 o'clock, after a lingering illness of about a year.

A number of "honor men" from the Florence prison are working on the Tucson-Florence road about 29 miles northwest of Tucson. They are camped in tents and are installing concrete

SWALLOWS FALSE TEETH BUT SAFFORD MAN RECOVERS

E. S. Mashbir Had Worn Molars for Many Years; Life at First Despaired Of.

Safford, Ariz., July 13.—(Special)—Because he swallowed his false teeth Wednesday, E. S. Mashbir of this place became so ill that for a time his life was despaired of.

Mashbir's teeth have given him some trouble of late in slipping down from their position, but he never thought of such a thing as actually swallowing them, and had become careless. On Wednesday he accidentally swallowed the teeth and grew rapidly worse. Mrs. Mashbir, who is employed at the Solomonville Commercial company store of that place, was sent for and in the meantime medical aid was obtained. Mr. Mashbir was much better when his wife arrived, but he still has his false teeth inside of his stomach.

GEORGE W. McFARLIN DEAD

AT STATE PIONEER HOME Word comes from Prescott of the death of George Washington McFarlin, former resident of Clifton, one of the pioneers of the state, who went there from Cochise county last winter. McFarlin was a practical printer, as well as an editor of ability. He called Tombstone his home since the year 1880, though for many years he traveled over the state, remaining only for a short time at any one place. He was always welcome in the newspaper offices of the state, because of his ability both in the mechanical department and in the editorial rooms.

Three or four years ago McFarlin met with an accident at Nogales which resulted in the loss of one of his legs and after which he was unable to do much work of any kind. He was cared for by the county until his transfer to the pioneer home several months ago. McFarlin is reported as having died from a cancer of the stomach.

SHATTUCK ARIZONA.

The Shattuck Arizona company reports for June an output of 1,226,987 pounds of copper, 24,121 ounces of silver and 261 ounces of gold. The total for the half year was 7,514,198 pounds of copper, 151,485 ounces of silver and 1914 ounces of gold.

Advices from the mine report favorable ore developments on several old levels, and satisfactory indications in the new lower openings. Between the 900 and 800 levels a raise is up 96 feet all in ore running 7 per cent copper, $3.20 in gold and two ounces of silver per ton.

CONCENTRATES.

Six sacks of rich gold ore now repose in the tanks of the American National Bank at Silver City as the result of the recent rich strike on the Langston property at Pinos Altos, and the end is not yet. The ore is very rich no one can guess with any degree of accuracy. One nugget, which was carefully weighed and its specific gravity taken, is estimated to contain $400 worth of gold. One mining man describing the ore says it is more nearly true to say that the gangue is held in place by gold rather than the gold appears in the gangue. An estimate places the value of the product up to Monday at $18,000.
